COL. GALBRAITH, AMERICAN LEGION COMMANDER, KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Friend in Whose Car He and Colonel Foreman Were Riding Loses Control and It Goes Over 20-Foot Embankment—Others Not Badly Hurt—Commanded Regiment in War and Was Prominent Business Man.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Indianapolis, Ind., June 9.—Colonel F. W. Galbraith, national commander of the American Legion, was killed early today when an automobile in which he was riding overturned on a 20-foot railway crossing embankment.

Col. Milton Foreman, of Chicago, commander of the Illinois Legion, and Henry Ryan, director of Americanism of the American Legion, were injured.

The three were returning from a function at the country club about eight miles north of Indianapolis. The car belonged to Ryan, who was driving.

Colonel Galbraith was pinned under the wreckage of the car and was dead when extricated. Colonel Foreman and Ryan were taken to City Hospital where it was found their injuries consisted chiefly of cuts and bruises.

Earlier in the evening the Legion officials had attended a rally staged in the interest of the training camp movement. After the rally Colonel Galbraith, Colonel Foreman and Ryan went to the country club. They left the club about midnight, starting back to Indianapolis where Colonel Foreman expected to take a train at 1 a. m. for Chicago.

Ryan, it is said, lost control of the machine while crossing the Belt Line Railroad tracks. It skidded and turned over the edge of a 20-foot crossing embankment.

Colonel Galbraith was elected leader of the American Legion at its convention in Cleveland last September. He was born in Watertown, Mass., May 6, 1874. During the war he commanded the 147th Infantry.

In civilian life, Colonel Galbraith was head of the Western Paper Goods Company of Cincinnati and was a former president of the Cincinnati Business Men's club and of the Rotary Club of that city.

Colonel Foreman is a Chicago lawyer, who, before the war, was an officer of the Illinois national guard and who served overseas as commander of the American troops.

FLYING BOAT AT KINGSTON POINT

The Hudson Valley Air Line made plans to have one of their flying boats at Kingston Point this afternoon to give the residents of Kingston an idea as to what the boats looked like.

They planned to anchor one of the flying boats off the point, and to make several trips in the air if passengers could be obtained. It was expected that the boat would remain here over night. The flying boat will hold six people and is an enclosed cabin model. At noon the flying boat had not arrived yet, but was expected later in the day.

Galanis was taken in charge by the police.

SIMS STANDS BY UTTERANCES

Haven't Received Denby's Cable But Tell London Paper He Will "Neither Retract Nor Repudiate" and Says Nothing Un-American in Remarks About Irish-Americans.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, June 9.—Rear Admiral William S. Sims, U. S. N., who has been asked by Secretary of the Navy Denby at Washington to report by cable immediately whether he was correctly quoted in his sensational "Jackass speech" Tuesday when he made caustic remarks about the Sinn Fein and Irish-Americans "will neither retract nor repudiate" according to an interview with the American naval officer printed in the Westminster Gazette today.

"I shall stand by every word I said," Admiral Sims declared in the interview. "I shall not repudiate a word of it. I see nothing un-American in what I said even if Senator McNeill McCormick does. Up to the present time I have not received the cablegram which Secretary of the Navy Denby was reported to have sent me. If I receive it I shall reply to it in the above words."

According to Washington advices the cablegram from Secretary Denby demanding an explanation was sent Wednesday.

This was the second time that Admiral Sims has been questioned regarding utterances made publicly in London. The latest speech was made before the English Speaking Union. The American admiral charged that the blood of English and American boys was on the hands of the Sinn Fein for their anti-Allied policy during the war. Later he warned the English not to pay any attention to resolutions of sympathy in the United States, saying a lot of "Jackasses" were responsible for them. The speech was publicly questioned in the American senate by Senator McCormick which explained Admiral Sims' references to Mr. McCormick in his interview.

TWO POLICEMEN KILLED IN TOLEDO

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Toledo, Ohio, June 9.—Police-men Mosebrugger and Dowell were shot and killed and the police surrounded the house at No. 611 Walnut street, where the murders, believed to be named Kelly, had barricaded himself. The shooting began when Officer Mosebrugger entered the house after being summoned by the woman who conducts a rooming house, had complained that the man named Kelly refused to pay his rent. Dowell later appeared and was shot down. A squad of police were sent to the scene but were unable to approach as Kelly seemed to be well supplied with ammunition and fired at any one who approached within range of his attic window. An attempt was made to use ammonia fumes to "smoke him out."

Shortly after 11 o'clock the police entered the house where they found the dead body of Kelly. He had been shot through the heart, presumably by a bullet from the machine gun. Firing ceased at 10:30 o'clock and as there had been no shooting from the house for 30 minutes the police, believing the man had been overcome by the ammonia fumes or had been shot, took a chance and entered the house. In the attic they found the bodies of Mosebrugger and Kelly.

The police used ammonia water and a machine gun on the house in an effort to drive the murderer out. The body of Patrolman Dowell lay in the street where he fell when shot dead. Mosebrugger's body was in the attic of the house where he made a rush to get Kelly but was killed. A fire hose was used to spray the house with ammonia.

Gould & Wicks, representing the company, stated that the company has been unable to prepare the detailed statements as to revenues and expenses and other data which it will submit as proof in support of the rates charged. They said about two weeks longer would be required to prepare these detailed statements and Chairman Prendergast announced that he would fix the date for the next hearing within ten days or two weeks. Corporation Counsel Brinley, representing the city, was unable to attend the hearing on account of another engagement.

75 PUEBLO DEAD FOUND

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Pueblo, Colorado, June 9.—With forty six bodies officially reported recovered at the city morgue, about twenty bodies recovered by troops and eight or ten known to have been buried by relatives, the known dead in Pueblo's disastrous flood reached 75 today. It is believed that the real harvest of victims will begin tomorrow or Saturday when the stagnant pools in the low lying sections of the city are cleared.

While a few cases of small pox and typhoid have broken out among the Mexican residents, fear of a general pestilence is ended, according to United States public health service officials.

Estimates of property damage continue to grow, and $25,000,000 is stated by well-informed real estate men as the minimum damage within the city.

Reports sifting in here from the lower Arkansas Valley continue to tell of the widespread devastation in the territory between Pueblo and Lamar, along the Arkansas River. Many bodies have been recovered in this area, some of them, it is believed, however, have been washed down with the raging torrents from Pueblo. It will be many days before the full extent of the property loss and the death toll over the 150 mile area from Pueblo to the Kansas state line is known.

CONDEMNED MAN FIGHTS KEEPERS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Ossining, N. Y., June 9.—Principal Keeper Thomas McNamery and several assistants had an exciting encounter this morning in the death house at Sing Sing prison with Paul La Guidice, under sentence to die in the electric chair tonight, when the condemned man ripped off all his clothing, smashed everything in his cell and apparently became a raving maniac.

The prisoner finally was overpowered and trussed up in a strait jacket. All efforts to dress him in the suit of black clothing customarily worn by condemned men on their last day, proved futile.

La Guidice, who was convicted for the murder of Mrs. Sophie Fichera in Rochester, was examined by a lunacy commission designated by Governor Miller three weeks ago and found to be sane. At the time, however, one of the witnesses before the commission testified that the prisoner was showing signs of breaking under the strain.

About ten days ago La Guidice began to mutter incoherently and pace his cell at night. His condition has grown steadily worse and for a week he has been raving and shouting night and day.

Fellow inmates in the death house have been greatly affected by the raving of La Guidice and several are reported to have been unable to sleep.

James K. Doyle of Rochester, attorney for the condemned man, was making every effort today to communicate with Governor Miller in an effort to halt the execution.

Meanwhile Warden Lewis Lawes was proceeding with arrangements for carrying out the execution at 11:15 o'clock tonight. An extra death guard, it is understood, will be detailed to assist in getting the condemned man to the chair.

Warden's Slightly Improved.
Edward Whitchell of Poughkeepsie, who was badly burned by an explosion at the White Company plant on Monday afternoon, is reported as slightly improved at the Kingston City Hospital. Mr. Whitchell was burned about the face, and it will be several days before it is known whether his sight will be permanently restored.

Went to Fall From Bridge.
Miss Florence Simpson of Litchfield, who sustained injuries in a fall from her bicycle Wednesday afternoon while riding down a steep bank near the Kingston City Hospital, is reported as slightly improved at the Kingston City Hospital.

MEXICO INSISTS ON RECOGNITION

As Preliminary to Signing any Treaty of Commerce—Constitutional Forbids Making Political Guarantees Asked in U. S. Note.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Mexico, City, June 9.—The latest note from Washington regarding American-Mexican relations and the conditions for recognition of the Mexican government contains commercial requirements which could be accepted in modified form but the political pledges could not be met in full under the present Mexican constitution, it was declared at the foreign office today.

According to the foreign office the American note has two distinct aspects—one commercial, the other political. The commercial conditions, it was said, "could be accepted with modifications if reciprocal guarantees were given for Mexican workers in the United States similar to those American workers would enjoy in Mexico."

The political requirements, it was declared, were unacceptable because they are contrary to the constitution. Article 15 of the constitution prohibits treaties which would change the guarantees and rights of citizens.

Foreign office officials said they believed that the mutual benefits from a treaty of amity and commerce between the United States and Mexico would be extensive.

Before the American state department sent the note a memorandum was sent through a personal friend of President Harding suggesting a conference between Mexican and American envoys, it was stated.

Mexico, however, replied that "he could not accept the proposal" before the Mexican government was recognized, as Mexico is not a new country, but has been recognized as a world power for one hundred years.

Later a note was received by George T. Summerlin, the American charge d'affaires, upon the subject. The United States proposed that, if a conference of Mexican and United States envoys be held, commercial reports and political matters, including recognition of Mexico by Washington, be treated simultaneously.

Mexico objected, wishing recognition treated as separate and distinct from the other issues involved.

The foreign office believes that the friendly interchange of communications will continue and that no serious obstacle will arise despite the refusal of Mexico to modify Article 27 of the constitution to which objection has been made.

President Obregon, who is giving his personal attention to the interchange of notes with Washington, declared that "the international policy of Mexico has been clearly defined," and that his own views are too well known to require further explanation.

Mexican officials, while declaring that no treaty will be signed until Washington recognizes the Obregon government, added that "the whole world knows that friendship and harmony exist between Mexico and the United States and that the only thing now lacking is formal diplomatic intercourse."

Which is Mexican Treaty.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, June 9.—A distinct "check" has developed in the negotiations now in progress between President Obregon and George T. Summerlin, American charge d'affaires in Mexico City, over the treaty of amity and commerce which has been proposed by the United States as a basis for readjusting relations between the two countries. It was indicated here today, however, that it was agreed that the negotiations are not proceeding as smoothly as satisfactory as officials would like.

COAL "BARONS" ARE OBDURATE

Hoover and Fall Unable to Get Them to Co-operate With Government, So Frelinghuysen Bill Designed to Force Publicity Will Be Pushed in Congress.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, June 9.—Administration leaders today decided to force new legislation designed to stabilize the coal industry, and possibly effect lower prices of coal to consumers.

The hostile attitude of coal operators, and threats that they will fight the government's program, only served more closely to unite Republican leaders in Congress in their purpose to throw the searchlight of publicity upon some of the inner workings of the coal industry.

Senator Frelinghuysen announced today that he will press his bill providing for stabilization through the compilation of accurate data on production and distribution costs to a vote in the senate without delay, despite the opposition of coal owners.

The senator, supported by leading members of the cabinet, and by administration spokesmen in both houses of congress, said that legislation is imperative to "clean up" the coal trade of some of the mysterious elements which now are believed to be contributing to abnormally high prices for coal.

The main principles of the Frelinghuysen bill will not be changed by any future suggestions of the coal industry, and any amendments which may be offered in the senate at the behest of the coal industry which would weaken the measure will be vigorously fought by Frelinghuysen and other leaders.

Disappointment was expressed today by Secretary of the Interior Fall and Secretary of Commerce Hoover, over the failure of coal operators to co-operate with the government in its stabilization plan. They charged that the coal operators by their attitude of "antagonism" are defeating their own ends.

SHARP BREAK IN STOCK MARKET

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, June 9.—A violent drop of over six cents in sterling, the suspension of dividend payments on the preferred issue of International Agricultural Chemical, the unfavorable steel trade situation, the increase in the export tax on oil by the Mexican government and the catching of stop-loss orders were factors in another sharp break in the stock market today. The list fell from one to seven points and many stocks sold at new low levels for the year.

United States Steel, Baldwin, Crable, Republic, Pan-American, Petroleum, American International, U. S. Rubber, International Agricultural Chemical, preferred, and American Agricultural dropped from one to seven points to new low for the year. Mexican Petroleum sold off 7 1/2 points to 123 1/2.

KERR FARM SOLD TO REAL ESTATE FIRMS

Sixty Acres Along Albany Avenue Extension to be Laid Out in Building Lots and Sold.

The transfer of the old Robert Kerr farm on Albany avenue extension by Harry Stewart and wife to the J. W. Wilbur Land Company, which has just been closed at the real estate offices of Davis & Miller on Fair street, is to be followed by development of the tract along similar lines to the development of property along Lucas avenue by the same company a number of years ago.

The farm, which contains about sixty acres, is to be laid out in building lots, with streets, etc., and it is expected that such work will be commenced shortly. The farm is one of the finest in close proximity to the city, and its convenient location to the rapidly increasing factory section along the West Shore railroad makes its development a certainty.

For many years the late Robert Kerr occupied the farm, which always has been very productive. It is entirely level and its easy accessibility both to the manufacturing, business and residential sections always has caused it to be highly regarded for development purposes.

BERGDOLL SOON TO BE MARRIED

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Bergdoll sent the following telegram voluntarily to the Berlin bureau of the International News Service.

"Thousands of Americans were in Germany trading with the enemy long before I arrived in this country. Why did not the United States seize their property? I did not trade with the enemy. All the money I have spent in Germany was for absolute necessities of life. I will be married shortly and my wife will bring suit in the United States for the restoration of my property in that country. The action of the United States government in seizing my property was illegal."

New Mexican Oil Tax.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, June 9.—The decree of the Mexican government increasing the export tax on oil is now being studied by the state department and if it is found that American interests are imposed upon, proper representations will be made to Mexico City. It was said at the state department today American oil concerns have lodged protests against the decree, setting forth that the present ten per cent nominal tax operates so that it really is 25 to 30 per cent. The additional 15 per cent would be disastrous, they claim.

LACE TRIMMED AND FLOWERS

Lace trimmed and gariendes with flowers of diverse sorts, and faced bonnet with blue georgette, this toilette hat suggests the long, lazy summer days.

FASHION NOTES OF INTEREST

Back to Brighton Up Old Serge Frocks; Capes of Soft Fabrics—Round Toed Shoes.

One way of freshening up an old blue serge frock is to buy a bright striped sash, with long silk fringe. These sashes are expensive, for they cost from fifteen to twenty dollars, but they give a really striking touch to the frock with which they are used.

Directoire gimpes are made of organdy, sheer but stiff, with fluted collars that stand up around the neck and chin. They are to be worn with coat suits.

Some of the shops are showing decidedly attractive capes for spring, made of soft and lovely fabrics, with collars that fasten high about the throat, below which the cape falls away from the front without any fastening.

Gray frocks of georgette are made with much use of dyed flit—dyed gray, of course, exactly to match the shape of the georgette.

Many of the new spring shoes show round toes. Some of them have a low French heel, a baby Louis heel, as it is called. Some of the shoes are made of suede of some shade cut away to show designs in leather or suede of a darker or lighter shade beneath—a trick resorted to also by the glove makers who in some of the new gauntlet gloves have done the same thing.

Last summer in Paris there were many shoes with fringed tongues at the front. These were made in leather and suede. Today there are fringed gauntlet gloves, sometimes with the fringe of two tones of the same color.

FASHIONS IN BRIEF

Touche of lingerie are appearing on suits and dresses for spring. Neckwear will be seen in such colors as rose, orange, henna and tomato.

Cotton fabrics and cotton braids applied on cloth are a spring feature. Lockets fashioned from cameo pins are worn suspended on black silk ribbons.

Serge is found oftentimes in the straight little afternoon frocks which make a virtue of the utmost simplicity.

Many afternoon frocks have a long cape to go with them in the same color as the material, either in silk or woolen goods.

Lace sleeves are featured in some of the elaborate new blouses. They end at about the elbow or a little below it—and the points of the lace are finished with big colored glass beads.

Crope de chine, crepe georgette, mousseline de soie, charmeuse and satin are favorite materials for afternoon frocks. Black, navy, maroon and gray are the leading shades.

Patent leather forms the narrow belt which is part of a blouse of orange georgette. The heavy leather belt is in interesting contrast to the sheer fabric of the blouse.

Cordons have come in for consideration. They are sometimes embroidered in natural colors on a golden hat or snood, and sometimes embroidered on a bag of satin or velvet.

The very latest wrinkle at the Southern resorts is the wearing of colored ties in white buckskin or cords. The ties match the color of the sport hat, sweater or skirt—if colored skirt is worn.

RAISON D'ETRE.
One quart of white stout, one and one-half tablespoons sugar, four teaspoons baking powder, one and one-half tablespoons shortening, one pint of milk or water, two cups scalded raisins, one quart scalded bran flakes, one teaspoon salt. ## K. H. S. MAROON ON SALE FRIDAY

On Friday, the Kingston High School Maroon will be placed on sale at the high school. The Maroon is the annual Senior year book of the school and has become known far and wide as a book containing a complete summary and account of the events that have taken place in the usual routine of school life and activity during the year.

This year's Maroon will consist of one hundred and forty-four pages, containing nothing else but reading material and pictures dealing with school functions. There will not be a single advertisement in this season's publication.

There will be an editorial section of six pages as an introduction and the reading will be brought to a delightful end with ten pages of jokes and other nonsense. Between these two sections, there will be the usual literary section including several good stories, poems and essays; reviews of the activities of the several classes and social organizations of the school; and a detailed account of the athletic doings of the school, inside and out, as well as those at home and abroad. Not a single inch of space has been wasted in the entire annual and the staff can well feel proud of the way in which they have grouped the "dope" together.

There has already been a large demand for the copies of the Maroon, but the management has made preparations so that any who wish a copy of the book may not be disappointed. The sale will open on Friday afternoon at the school and they will be placed on sale at the school again on Class Day.

If you have not already ordered your copy and wish to do so, ask some high school student to get you one or mail your orders to the business manager at the high school. The Maroon will also be on sale at O'Reilly's news store on Broadway, and Forsyth and Davis's on Wall street.

No. 3 Girls Won.

There was great excitement at Wilbur Tuesday afternoon, when the girls of No. 1 and No. 3 schools met on the baseball diamond. It was a fast game of three innings. The score was 15 and 11 in favor of No. 3. Both teams have fast players and another exciting game may be expected Friday afternoon when the No. 1 maidens and the No. 3 maidens will clash again at Hasbrouck Park.

Burroughs Nature Club Notes

Copyright 1921, BY BURROUGHS NATURE CLUB CO.

What do you know about nature subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Department of this paper. Look for answers in this column.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. Do salmon spawn in sand or in gravel; and if in gravel, how are the eggs protected?

2. How do snakes manage when swallowing prey bigger than its mouth and throat?

3. Please describe the coloring of western sap suckers. My neighbor is killing all woodpeckers on his property, believing them to be sap-suckers.

Answers in Tomorrow's Nature Notes

Answers To Previous Questions.

1. Is the cicada's song truly a sign of warm weather?

Not in the sense of being a forecast. The cicada buzzes when the weather is already warm. Insects in all stages of their growth are creatures of the warmth; heat is the motive power that makes them go; when this falls, they are still.

2. Is it possible for fish frozen in black ice in winter to thaw out and live in spring?

Yes, sometimes but not always. Fishes have sometimes been frozen artificially for transportation and then thawed out. They are cold-blooded taking on the temperature of the surrounding medium without losing their vitality as mammals would. They do not invariably survive, however. In a scientific experiment three-year, two-year and one-year trout were purposely frozen in three blocks of water, and then thawed out. Only the yearlings survived.

3. How can I get rid of pigeon hawks that destroy many small birds in my district. They are shy of the shot gun.

The hawks are also shy of a trap. Attempts at poisoning are dangerous as other birds may become victims. Try putting a bait out for the pigeon hawks that trouble your locality and shoot from a blind after the bird has fed several times and becomes less watchful.

Saturday, June 11, Special.

And neither is any man or any organization.

The Kingston Chamber is steadily growing in strength and efficiency.

It brings substantial industries here; it helps develop Kingston's trade; it works with our surrounding farming and summer resort interests.

AND IT WORKS FOR AND HAS BEEN DECIDEDLY SUCCESSFUL IN OBTAINING PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS AND IN PROMOTING EFFECTIVE UNITED EFFORT FOR THE THINGS THAT MAKE KINGSTON A BETTER PLACE TO LIVE AND TO WORK.

What it can do is determined by the support—financial, moral and in personal service which you together with others give to it.

Vacation Time.

Every hard working man or woman needs a vacation and those who say they cannot find time to take a rest in summer should be made to see the value of an outing, or they should, in many instances, be forced to take it even for their own good and in spite of their opposition. There is no doubt, however, that a rest is helpful, and while there are those who can honestly say that they haven't the time, or could not get away, there is usually some manner in which they can manage to take a few days off and have the fun that goes with being out of doors. It doesn't mean that they must stop work all summer, but a few days will help.

There are those who claim that a vacation has a marked tendency to keep them poorer who take it and if there is one thing certain it is the fact that no producer can afford to get old. Chaucer's Man of Law is one of the men who could always find time to have some fun and he has had one of the best of lives. Nevertheless, while he worked hard he could find time now and then to rest up a bit so that he could go back to his job with increased ardor. The same rule applies to many other active men who have gone on in years but who are young and who will be young until they die.

Probably golf and other out of door sports have been helpful, as helped in anything could be, but little from pleasure of this sort. There are those who need a rest, however it is, with business hours aside for a certain period long or short. It has a benefit that comes later and adds years to one's life. The general impression is along this line and there is proof that there is nothing more stimulating than the few days that almost anybody can get if they really make up their minds. The lay man doesn't need any vacation but the active man does. The lay man is no good to the world and for that reason he can be forgotten. But the active man is some good and he should remember that he owes something to himself and to those for whom he is producing. That is why the vacation is something worth while and something of more value than a play-day. It has a value and is a beautiful rule to be absolutely followed. Just a few days rest for each and they should be taken.

Tentative plans are under way for an enlargement of the already large store to accommodate the increasing business that the Ross Stores, Inc., have met with under the management of W. H. Runderham, since their taking over the business of the former owners.

SNYDER PUPILS IN PIANO RECITAL

On Wednesday evening the studio of Prof. Arthur H. Snyder on John street was filled with the friends and parents of the many piano pupils of Mr. Snyder who were privileged to listen to a very pleasing musical program.

Prof. Snyder always arranges to include in his recital programs other cultural features than music, which gives much food for happy, inspiring thought. Patriotism is always much in evidence for American flags and the red, white and blue always hold first place amongst the profuse floral decorations, this time composed of roses, laurel and ferns. Then as a brief prelude to each number, Mr. Snyder had found some fitting and beautiful quotation from the master poets, thus familiarizing the pupils with the names and works of these famous authors. Furthermore, the program was happily varied with tenor solos by Arthur Rifenbary, whose singing is always such a treat. All of the students played from memory and from little Mary De Feo to Melba Simmons, each pupil showed her or himself to be a great credit to the teaching of Mr. Snyder, while some of the pupils showed considerable talent.

The program was as follows:

Sweet Summer Days.....Preston

Katherine Happy.

Piano Duet—By the Lakeside.....Concone

Silvia Schantz and teacher.

Marching to School.....Bilbro

Kenneth Happy.

A Swing Song.....Ketterer

Alice Moffat.

Mr. Rifenbary.

Miss Agnew and teacher.

b. Chanson Ballade.....Chaminade

c. The Butterfly.....Grieg

Mr. Rifenbary.

Allegro

Andante and Variations

Scherzo Allegro

b. Nocturne in G Minor, Op. 37.....Chopin

Melba Simmons.

Tenor Solo—It is Not Raining Rain.....Mary Turner Salter

Mr. Rifenbary.

While all of the pupils received from Prof. Snyder a complimentary souvenir in the form of some piano-forte composition, as an appreciation of faithful musical study, Melba Simmons deserves special mention for the remarkable memory work in completely memorizing the entire Beethoven Sonata which she played very well indeed for a musician of but twelve summers. She also played from memory the Chopin Nocturne.

FEAST OF SHABOOTH.

Jewish Holiday to Be Observed Next Sunday

The Feast of Weeks or Shabooth will be observed this year in the synagogues on Sunday, June 12, and in more orthodox congregations the following day also, June 13.

Originally Shabooth was an agricultural festival in which the gathering of the spring wheat was used as an occasion for special services of thanksgiving. A later tradition associates this day with the revelation of God at Mt. Sinai when the law was revealed unto Moses. By this revelation Israel was summoned from among the nations of the earth to become the messenger of that law of humanity and under the inspiration of this election, to stay the floods of sin and corruption that threaten to sweep over the earth. As a result of his example of righteousness, the Jew hopes that zeal for the service of God, which is to do justly and to love mercy, may become the striving of all mankind.

The Reform Synagog stresses this historical feature of the Feast of Weeks as a service of dedication of the Jew to the covenant imposed by his Jewish ancestry on him, to be the teacher and exemplar of the law of love unto humanity.

By means of this symbolization and idealization of the Shabooth festival Reform Congregations have utilized it as the Confirmation Day, wherein the young men and women pledge themselves anew to continue the covenant of their fathers and to exemplify in their lives and conduct the spirit of justice and humanity to which they have been called by reason of their Jewish birth.

Confirmation Day has a further significance for the children. It marks the culmination of the instruction which they have received in the religious school, in the tenets of their faith and in the Bible and other Jewish history and literature.

Confirmation services are followed by a reception at home of the confirmands or in religious schools where friends and relatives join with parents in exchanging greetings of fellowship on this eventful epoch in the lives of the boys and girls graduated from the religious school and now qualified to assume the responsibilities of congregational membership.

CITY'S AREA TAKES ITS TOLL

C. R. Stull Explains Scattered Kingston as it Affects Public Utilities—With Less Population Than Poughkeepsie or Newburgh Kingston Has Great Deal More Streets, Mains and Sewers.

At the Rotary Club luncheon on Wednesday the speaker was C. R. Stull of the Kingston Gas and Electric Company who outlined some of the problems faced by the public utility companies in general and those located in Kingston in particular. The comparative figures he gave show one reason why Kingston is such a fine city to live in and at the same time why its street maintenance and public utility problems are greater than in more compactly built cities. Mr. Stull's address follows:

The secretary's letter today stated that I was to address the meeting on a "light subject." This is true to the extent that every man present here today is very much interested in this "light subject" as his own convenience comfort as well as the progress and growth of the community depends on a broad and thorough understanding by the community and its inhabitants of the problem confronting the individual or the company responsible for the proper handling and distribution of this "light subject." Public utility companies are distinctly the servants of the people. The service rendered by them may be said to be second only to the two cent postage stamp as the cheapest commodity purchasable by any man, woman or child. They are responsible for furnishing the heat, washing the dishes, filling the bathtub, running errands, calling the doctor or fire department and to do the washing and ironing and countless other jobs.

Every community is known by its utilities. Where any of the utility services are not efficient experience warrants the deduction that some influence is at work there which lessens the desirability of that community as a place of residence and occupation. It lessens the desirability to invest money. In other words it represents a good place to stay away from. A stranger coming into a community appreciates that a utility like any other business has its incentive to develop in the fact that it is prospering.

Any community's biggest single investment is in its utility and I include in this the electric, gas, street railway and telephone equipment. These utilities are called upon to supply service and this call is practically equivalent to a demand which cannot be refused. This means that new capital must constantly be obtained in order to meet the demands made by the public. To give a community service it is necessary for the utility company to provide additional capital equivalent to from $4.00 to $6.00 in order to obtain $1.00 additional gross revenue. Considering plant facilities involved as well as new equipment required to furnish an individual electric consumer from $40.00 to $100.00 worth of property investment is represented. This represents a business turnover ranging from probably once in four years to once in eight years. No other business in any community is conducted on so slow a turn-over. Just consider in your own minds how often each of you here turn over your business capital in a year's time. Any other business you mention might be conducted on much less capital than can the utility business. The question of obtaining this capital is a serious one for all utilities, and the ability to obtain it is dependent very materially on the attitude of the public and of commission authorities.

The utility business at the present time is entirely in the hands of state regulatory commissions and I believe there are at present 42 commissions in an equal number of states in the country. The statistical data which they have compiled covers capital invested in all lines of utilities and they have at hand every detail as to how the properties are financed and what the earnings are. (shows classification books.) Keeping in mind the regulation to which the utilities are subject and its bearing on the regulation of security issues it is evident the financial standing of the company is as vital to the life and development of a community as its banks and should be protected against unfair attack in order to promote confidence in the properties and thereby result in a desire to purchase utility securities when offered. The people should realize that confidence in utility securities cannot be had in the face of constant and unjust criticism. If the same kind of public attack should be made upon national and state banks in the same communities where public officials are now bitterly assailing the central stations and gas companies, the public would lose confidence and in a very short period these banks would be forced to close their doors.

The principle of commission control of utilities is a well defined one today, its chief objection might be said to lie in the condition which prevents quick action in the matter of rates where quick action is necessary. Oftentimes in emergencies the functioning of legislative bodies falls down very badly. This has been true in past years in the face of rising costs. The machinery of public control failed to meet the situation and did not keep rates adequate and grant increased rates in line with increased costs of all other commodities. The general temper of the times in no way suggests any return to the old unregulated condition but there is room for improvement in the manner in which the commissions accept the responsibility for the allowance of a fair return upon the property investment which capitalization they sanction. It is the practical needs of the situation that need to be considered without delay and proper relief or adjustment made at the time when it is most required.

For the best interests of the community and in order to insure the lowest possible utility rates, it is a well determined fact that the utility service in any community should be a monopoly. It is on this theory that the monopoly should exist that the public service commissions are organized in order that no abuse of this privilege may develop.

However, this state control should not be of such a nature as to remove all incentive for initiative and interest in the development of the utilities problems. Certain freedom of operation should be accorded the utility officials, subject to review in case of abuse. This greater freedom would undoubtedly result in better service and promote the confidence of investors in utility securities. These practical needs and elements of initiative might be likened to the Illinois countryman who went to Mr. Lincoln to consult him regarding marital infidelities. After listening to a narrative which covered some twenty years of domesticity, marred often by conflict, Mr. Lincoln ventured the view that the facts stated would hardly sustain a suit for divorce. "Good heavens," replied the prospective client, "I do not want a divorce, what I want is a little more freedom on lodge nights!"

It is just that little bit of freedom which you exercise in your own business activities that permits you to give your business the benefit of your own ideas and thereby accelerate its growth and increase your interest in doing the best for your customers. I am wondering how many men here read our advertisement in the Freeman last evening. This was repeated in the Leader this morning. It is headed "You are Interested in Four Ways." If you have not read it please do so.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE.

"Preserving Our Wild Flowers" at High School June 13.

On Wednesday of next week, June 15, at the high school auditorium there will be given by the Ulster Garden Club a free illustrated lecture on "Preserving Our Wild Flowers." The slides will be both beautiful and informing. And as we are in grave danger of losing many of our most beautiful wild flowers, it will be well to know how to preserve them for those who come after us as well as for our own pleasure in the future. It is through the courtesy of Mrs. Kelly of the Ulster Garden Club, that these slides will be shown and an especial invitation is given all of our school children to see the pictures. There will also be a few slides shown of some of the more elaborate and beautiful of Kingston's gardens. All flower lovers will be especially welcome.

AETNA SOLD TO HERCULES CO.

Aetna Explosives Company, Who Have Plant at Port Ewen, Taken Over by Chief Rival of the DuPonts—Deal Closed Tuesday.

Rumors of the proposed purchase of the Aetna Explosives Company, Inc. by the Hercules Powder Company received definite confirmation Tuesday when the Aetna stockholders sanctioned the sale of its properties, assets and business. This marks the culmination of a transaction that had interested the financial and business circles for two years. B. B. (dell, Jr., has been president of the Aetna Company.

The Hercules Company was originally created by a decree of a federal court in an action brought by the United States against the DuPont Company under the Sherman act.

On May 4, a decision was rendered on the Hercules Company's petition sanctioning the purchase of the Aetna Company, in which the court expressed itself as convinced that in permitting the Hercules Company to buy the Aetna Company, actual competition would be undiminished and even probably increased, especially as regards the Hercules Company's rival, the DuPont Company.

By this purchase the Hercules Company will acquire high explosives or dynamite plants, near Birmingham, Ala., Emporium, Pa., Birmingham, Ala., Ishpeming, Mich., and Fairville, Ill., two black blasting powder plants, one at Goes, Birmingham, Ala., a plant for the manufacture of blasting caps and electric blasting caps at Port Ewen, N. Y., and a plant for the manufacture of fulminate of mercury, for use in blasting caps, Prescott, Ont., Canada.

LADIES PULLING FOR CARPENTIER

After Watching Film, Work Out With Three Good Men—Vincent Astor One of Small But Select Audience.

(By Sid Mercer.)

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Manhasset, L. I., June 9.—Before a small but select audience back of the old barn at Matthews farm Georges Carpentier stepped four fast rounds against three sparring partners Wednesday afternoon and showed more in a boxing way than he has heretofore uncovered for the "experts" on days when newspaper men were admitted to the ring.

The most prominent guest at Carpentier's exclusive matinee was Vincent Astor, who motored down from New York with a party of friends. The Astor party received hardly more attention than the forty other guests who draped themselves over the lawn as the European champion went through his stunts.

Carpentier seemed to be much more at ease before this audience than he is when the newspaper critics are on hand. He punched the bag for ten minutes without raising more than a slight perspiration. He then entered the ring and began boxing with Paul Journee. Dave Rosenberg, former amateur champion of the metropolitan district, was added to the corps of sparring partners yesterday. Rosenberg is the lad who went into a lunch with Mike Gibbons at Ebbett's field recently, though losing the decision.

After Journee came Rosenberg. He wore a heavy headgear and got some heavy blows while the French champion danced around and did some fancy boxing. Rosenberg went two rounds and when he finished was perspiring profusely while Carpentier hardly tossed a hair.

The Frenchman did no shadow boxing but completed his workout by boxing a round with Italian Joe Gans and then went through his usual ring calisthenics. The spectators were very much impressed with the speed of Georges and the indomitable will he showed in the latter part of the fight.

Mr. Demsey will not prevail against him July 2. Vincent Astor, who knew Carpentier in France, spoke highly of the French champion's condition.

Mr. Astor will visit Dr. Dempsey's camp in the near future.

CALIFORNIA'S OARSMEN GOOD

Back At Poughkeepsie Rowers
On Pre-Regatta Aspect. They Are Picked To Win Big Event With Easy Second.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, June 9.—California's best rowing crew will be the first horse in the classic Poughkeepsie regatta on the Hudson June 10, according to indications today.
The fine showing of the "Bears"
at Princeton's crack "B" crew last Saturday is largely responsible for this but the fact that the native sons like the long distance will have much to do with attracting sentiment toward the chances of winning the intercollegiate race. They have already proven that they have class.

See Wallis, ex-Yale rowing ear-
man, and coach of the Californians, has had his earman in action at Poughkeepsie for several days.
Columbia and Syracuse have also been practicing on the Hudson, and the smart Navy eight is ready to start working over the three mile course. The sweep men of Cornell and Pennsylvania will also join in activities at Poughkeepsie before many days. And the historic Hudson will resume its old time preregatta aspect.
The feature of the last few days of practice at Poughkeepsie has been the fine showing of the Californians. The Bears have class sticking out all over them and rowing critics who have watched the work of various crews for years are united in voting Wallis's crew the best that has ever been sent to Poughkeepsie from out of the west.
There is every indication that California will be in the running from start to finish on June 23.
The distance suits the Bears, for one thing, and the boating they got at Princeton according to Coach Wallis, did them more good than harm.

The Navy's fine octette will also be very much in the coming race.
Country Moore's crew, stroked by Clyde Kins, lost to Princeton's "B" sweepmen, but by less than did California. The Navy, however, is at its best over the longer distances and as the Middle are out to balance the defeat at Princeton they will be more than hard to beat.
Columbia and Cornell must be sured to give the Middle and Bears some opposition, with Columbia's chances much the brighter.
The Navy has already trimmed Syracuse and Columbia has shown marked superiority over Pennsylvania. The crews that figure to fight it out on the last leg of the big race, however, are the Navy and California, and the race promises to develop a contest that will go down in rowing annals as one of the greatest ever staged in the country.

CLOSED SHOP TOO MUCH FOR COHAN

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, June 9.—George M.
Cohan is going to retire from the theatrical business. Art and the closed shop demanded for next season
by the Actors' Equity Association can't live together, according to Cohan, and therefore, being in the minority, he is going to quit.

Cohan's differences with the Equity Association date back to the actors' strike of 1919, when he helped organize the Actors' Fidelity Association, an organization of non-union actors, pledged to the open shop. At that time Cohan declared flatly that he would never stand for a closed shop in any of his productions.

While Cohan's retirement will be a great loss to the stage, it will be nothing short of a calamity to the profession, for it means that the thousand or more actors who would have been engaged for the Cohan productions scheduled for next season will have to seek employment elsewhere.

"In face of the fact that the coming season does not look any too rosy, it seems to me that I might have helped a lot of actors had I been permitted to," said Cohan in discussing his decision. "I might even have relieved distress through giving players engagements who haven't had work for months. I was not in the game to make money. I have plenty of money for my own use, and, oh, well, I'm needing a rest anyway."

Cohan's retirement will mark the passing of one of the leading figures of the American stage. A gifted actor, accomplished playwright, composer and author of dozens of popular hits, including "Over There," the famous war song, he has been an outstanding figure since his early youth when he played in the famous vaudeville team of the Four Cohans.

COXSACKIE HAS BIG FIRE

The Upton-Coxsackie cutlery works, the Haswell elder mill, Pierce's hay warehouse and two freight cars were destroyed by fire at Coxsackie Wednesday morning. The loss is estimated at about $30,000.
Several men suffered burns in endeavoring to put out the fire which started in the tempering pots at cutlery plant. The elder mill was owned by Wm. T. Haswell, with it about 100 barrels of vinegar, presses, machinery and vats, burned. The warehouse of Albert W. Pierce was partly filled with hay, which burned with two carloads of hay on a siding. Fifty large boxes of knives and much sheet steel burned at the knife plant.

Checkers Played by the Ancients.
The game of checkers is very ancient, being known to the Egyptians, Greeks and Romans. It was played in Europe in the sixteenth century.
An old form of checkers is known in China as "the game of circumvention."

"GO TO FIELD DAY" URGES MR. CHASE

E. L. Chase, of the Ulster County Farm Bureau, says that the gathering is too good to miss—the features.

"The more the merrier," is the way County Agricultural Agent E. L. Chase put it today when asked by a representative of The Freeman what he thought were the chances for a good representation from Ulster county at the farmers' field days at the State College at Ithaca on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 23, 24, 25.

Mr. Chase explained that the field days are in reality a summer farmers' week, held at a time when the college farms and fields are at their best; last year's field days were the first, and fully 7,000 people from all over the state attended. He says that he believes this county will be even better represented than last year, because everyone who attended last year was enthusiastic over the gathering. Mr. Chase says he would not be surprised if many persons from this county will go to Ithaca for all or some of the days.

Auto Tours Daily.

The events will start off each day at 8 o'clock—"farmers' time," by the way—with automobile tours of the campus and farms, so visitors can get an idea of the whole place. Then at 10 o'clock the field, orchard and barn demonstrations will begin. There will be pauses for luncheon, for movies and a short address in Bailey Hall at midday, but in the main all the events are to be in the open, except in case of rain when lectures on all sorts of agricultural subjects will be offered.

Evenings will be devoted to musical programs in Bailey Hall—and the audience will furnish some of the music.

"Farmers' field days are too good to miss," concluded Mr. Chase. "Don't miss them!"

WEST SAUGERTIES.

West Saugerties, June 8.—Last week we had our road oil and gravelled and rolled down and now we have a good road. All we lack now is a state trooper once in a while to keep the cars that come down the mountain within the speed limit and make them blow their horns as they round the curves a thing that is very much neglected.

Henry Bach and sisters, Mrs. James Glenon and Mrs. Martin, of Tannersville, were Friday visitors here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Meade of Daytona, Florida, are occupying their bungalow here for the summer.

Mr. Smith, a young man from New York city, on Sunday afternoon addressed us in the interests of the Anti-Saloon League of New York. We are sorry that there were not more present to hear him. He certainly gave some very interesting facts and on a subject that should be closely considered.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Cordes were again called to Union Hill, N. J., to attend another funeral. Two weeks ago Mr. Cordes's sister, Mrs. Engelmann, died and now her youngest son Eddie has gone to join her. They were not parted long.

Mrs. Floyd Minkler and Mrs. Ray Minkler of Saxton and their children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hommel.

Victor Hommel and family were week-end guests of his parents in Manville.

Mrs. Minkler entertained guests on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kiefer and two sons with their wives of Flatbush, were guests at the home of Fred Cole on Sunday.

Mrs. McClure and son of Brooklyn is visiting her mother, Mrs. Mendoza.

Oscar Hommel and wife of Schenectady made their usual weekly visit here.

Mr. Mendoza, who has been on a two weeks' vacation at his residence here, has returned to business in Brooklyn.

There was quite a number of Tannersville people, who attended the club house dance here on Saturday night.

An auto party coming down the hill on Sunday lost control of the car and it went overboard. In some way a tree stopped its descent and by using tackles it was brought back to the road. The party driving managed to jump out before the light of the car and as far as known no one was hurt.

Miss Edith Mendoza of Brooklyn is here as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Mendoza.

AT THE THEATERS.

"Love, Honor and Debut" and a Rex Beach Story Here Tonight.

Young wives, erring husbands, vamp—Mack Sennett put them all in "Love, Honor and Debut," his new idea in five reel laughs showing at Keene's tonight. Friday and Saturday Thomas Meighan in "Conrad in Quest of His Youth" and "Fatty" Arbuckle in "Fatty at Coney Island."

At the opera house, three days starting today, Rex Beach's "The North Winds Malice" starring Vera Gordon, the great mother of "Humor-ique," will be shown. Tom Santelli plays the leading male role and displays more thrilling fights than in his famous "Spoliers" picture. "Snooky" the "humane" and the lovable children in a comedy "A Truzy Full of Trouble" is the added feature.

Billie Burke at the Auditorium tonight in "Silk Stockings" offers a comedy of love and laughter with a delightful story all the way through. Art Acord in "The White Horseman" is the thrilling chapter-story of the west. Friday, Roy Stewart in "One Shot Ross."

INDIANS IN PERU KNEW OF JAZZ

Prehistoric Instruments Indicate That They Must Have Started Early.

KNEW NOTHING OF STRINGS

Instruments of Percussion and Wind Instruments Composed Their Orchestras—Bells Were of Copper With Pebble Clappers.

New York—That the Indians of prehistoric Peru knew the art—or should we say science?—of "jazz" is apparent from the decorations, representing orchestras and dancers, found on the ancient pottery and metal objects of the region. Further evidence is furnished by accounts of early writers, and, most convincing, by numbers of the musical instruments themselves which have been recovered from graves and ruins by archeologists. These instruments include drums, bells, cymbals, rattles, pipes, flutes, whistles, trumpets and an unmistakable ancestor of the oboe. If the activities of an energetic Indian orchestra, equipped with some or all of these instruments did not produce something akin to present-day jazz, the writer is guilty of an error in judgment.

Undoubtedly, early man sang and danced before he produced instrumental music. As the most important element of the song and dance is rhythm, and as in singing and dancing a desire for some sound to clearly indicate the rhythm seems to be universal, primitive vocalists and percussionists everywhere have found assistance in the snapping of fingers, clapping of hands, beating of hips and stamping of feet. Then, probably, the drum was devised—the first musical instrument. The allied instruments of percussion, as cymbals, rattles and bells soon followed.

Wind instruments. Later came the wind instruments, such as musical shells and varieties of pipes and horns. And finally, the more complex stringed instrument was developed. The greatest single step forward in the history of instrumental music was the mechanical production of a musical scale. This came with the pipes. In Peru, evidence is found of the first two types—Instruments of percussion and wind instruments—but so far nothing has been found to indicate that the prehistoric Indians of the region knew how to make music from the vibrations of strings.

In the American Museum of Natural History in New York City there is a large collection of prehistoric musical instruments of Peru. They have been carefully studied by Charles W. Mead, Assistant Curator of the Department of Anthropology, whose findings have been published in a short paper. According to Mead, no drums have been found in ancient Peruvian graves. This may be for the reason, he believes, either that the drums of the time, being made of perishable material have all disintegrated, or that because of some superstition it was not customary to bury drums with the dead. Drums, however, were pictured by the native artists of the time and described by early writers, the evidence showing that they were identical in kind with the drums used today in several parts of Peru. They were made of skin stretched over a hoop of wood or over one end of a short section of a tree trunk hollowed out to a thin cylinder. Small drums seem to have been the rule. The drum heads were usually made of the skins of deer and other animals common to the country.

Copper Bell. The bells of the Peruvian "jazz" orchestra were of copper, with pebbles for clappers. There were rattles, made of small shells, nuts, seeds, etc., which were worn attached to the wrists, ankles and other parts of the body in dancing. Gourds filled with pebbles were used as hand-rattles. Shells were strung together like cymbals. The Museum collection also contains three small bronze discs, slightly concave-convex, with perforated projections by which they were evidently suspended. When struck with any hard substance they give out a remarkably clear and resonant sound.

Whereas among us the fad of the day is the ukulele, the Peruvians of "THE GOOD OLD DAYS" delighted in performing on the huayra, pahu, or puka. The puka were open and closed, and made of bone or cane, and in one known instance, of stone. Flutes of cane, or bone and of wood were also popular. They were carved in a variety of fantastic shapes. A number of the bone flutes which have been found have stop-locks on the under side, apparently meant to be closed by the thumb. They are very primitive instruments, not producing a true or complete scale. That the Peruvians were able to realize their shortcomings is at least some extent apparent in the fact that in some instruments attempts to correct the scale have been made; the vents have been plugged with bits of gourd and substituted by other holes. Moreover, it is to be remembered that the use and condition of the instruments, especially those of cane, have doubtless affected the tone qualities.

Let Parents Keep It.

Wholes and withers who keep twice a day for a year, and who are allowed to eat only on every second day of a month, share in the general ceremony of the bread-baking at the close of the year.

CARL MAYS SAYS:

Pitcher Carl Mays, Yankee submarine pitcher who threw the ball that beat Ray Chapman, Cleveland shortstop, says: "Fawster crowds the plate too much for his own safety. 'He makes the pitcher take all the risk. 'The pitcher has the right of way to the space above the plate and does not like to have a batter crowd close. 'No pitcher can throw the ball where he wants it all the time. 'I admire Fawster's nerve. 'But he's too nervy."

Baseball Notes

The Cards are being shuffled roughly in the National league.

Whether he wears red or white Sox, Harry Hooper can still sock the apple.

Jim Dunn, owner of the Indians, admits he has the best team in baseball.

Dopesters who picked the Yankees to win are offering to sell out with no takers.

Infielder Carl Schmehl has been released by Cincinnati to the St. Paul A. A. club.

Hughy Duffy doesn't deny that Jimmy Burke is an assistant manager, not a coach.

The White Sox have signed Francis Pratt, shortstop of the University of Alabama nine.

Bill Rümmler, barred from organized baseball, is handling an independent team in Minot, N. D.

Walter Johnson's smoke and Babe Ruth's swing make a home-run combination in any park.

Indianapolis A. A. Club has purchased pitcher Johnny Enzman from the Philadelphia Nationals.

Eastern league critics are beginning to refer to Arthur Irwin's team as the "Hopeless Harifords."

Cleveland fans are taking Owner Dunn at his word. They keep balls batted into the stands as souvenirs.

Bill Donovan has accomplished something with the Phillies, even though they haven't been winning regularly.

Cobb's Tigers are still showing the same new spirit that characterized their opening games with the White Sox.

The tax on sporting goods is making a lot of male stenographers and ribbon clerks out of embryo Ruths, Dimpseys and Tildens.

Pittsburgh will have to build a bigger park if the Pirates keep on winning. The Smoky City is a good town for a winner.

Goldie Rapp gets the first part of his name through having a half pound of yellow ore, battered in his doctor-humans.

The "Rice" market has gone up since Sam went on a rampage with the Washington club and started to hit homers.

Mal Barry, who played first for Hartford last year and acted as captain of the team, won't play for Arthur Irwin.

Manager Hugh Duffy of the Red Sox says he has a real star in the making in Clark Pittinger, the Mitt League infielder.

Ralph Doyle, former Holy Cross College third baseman, is expected to join the Springfield Eastern league team for a trial.

Babe Ruth will never be arrested for speeding on the base lines this year—not unless he limits himself to about three meals a week.

The Southern league season is really on. Kid Elberfeld was chased out of the ball park the other day by Empire Jack O'Toole.

Wilbert Robinson is a fat prophet. He told the world that the Robbies were a ball club when his "Big Six" pitching staff hit its stride.

Last spring Doc Johnson became the highlight of his hitting. This spring it's his brother Jimmy. "See difference," said in the family.

Ping Bode may have his faults, but he can boast that he is nothing wrong with his knees, something that Babe Ruth and Red Ruth can not say.

Frank Wilcox, new wrangler in the American league, is said to have some of the characteristics of Bill Klem of the National in calling balls and strikes.

John McGraw says Curtis Walker is one of these players who George Burns never has a bad day, but is just an steady as a clock, always there to do what he is told to do, and generally does what he is told.

Slender's Day Come.

Throughout Canada from 1890 to 1895 slenders were killed annually, but the game was prohibited and are now under certain restrictions that are rigidly enforced, so that there is no fear of their extinction.

Wight Said Her Away Happy.

Leontine Wight—"I shall get some money to her day tonight." "No, Leontine, how can you be so heartless? Let her have a good meal first; put it in her pocket."—Princess Eger.

The Plumber's Remark.

In Japanese mythology the fox is represented as having been born with nine tails, and even now when the fox is seen to be regarded as a monster from heaven.

Philadelphia Belle Marries Cowboy With Notches on Gun, and Everything.

Philadelphia.—Who is Buster Estes? When the news that Frances S. Mears, prominent society girl, had been married to a cow-puncher named Buster Estes reached here, Philadelphia city folk gasped.

The ceremony was performed at Jackson's Hotel, Wyo., on March 29, where the young couple are spending their honeymoon on the bridegroom's big ranch.

According to Dr. Harvey J. Battle of this city, the cow-puncher bridegroom is everything that the movie feed dreams about.

He holds several championships for horsemanship, is a dead shot with a record of having killed three horse thieves, is also a veteran of the World war and "can lick his weight in wildcats."

WIDOW LOSES IF SHE WEDS

Use of More Than $1,000,000 for Life Depends on Her Remaining Single.

Tuxedo, N. Y.—In the will of the late Charles W. Yates, wealthy summer resident of Tuxedo, which has just been proved in Surrogate Edward C. Smith's court in Orange county, is a provision which would terminate requests held in trust for his widow if she should remarry.

Although the estate within the confines of New York was said to consist of "upward of $10,000,000 personal estate," it was said that the testator had considerable real estate and assets elsewhere. Mr. Yates died recently in his seventy-fourth year, the widow is to have the use for life of his estate, said to exceed $1,000,000, provided that she does not remarry.

The Carb Market on Broad street, just below Wall street, New York city, the spot where daily for the past thirty-five years the hectic searching of fingers, has meant the exchange of millions of dollars, will be no longer, for on July 10 the New York Carb Brokers' Association will move into their newly erected building and thereafter all trading will be done indoors. The passing of the Carb Market will be a blow to New York's financial district inasmuch as it brought thousands of customers every day to watch the mad waving of hands which meant nothing to them and so much to others. The photograph shows the Carb Market in action. In the background can be seen the columns of the substantial City Building.

NON POPULARITY BY FEAST

New New Hebrides Outpost Chief Contrived to Become the Big Ruler of Vao.

Many of the inhabitants of the island of Vao in the New Hebrides are refugees from the big island of Malekula, who were vanquished in battle and literally driven off the earth by their enemies. Soon after our arrival a powerful savage named Tethlog, one of the Small Numbers people, arrived on Vao with twenty of his men. All the others had been killed and the women and children had been taken captive. Martin Johnson writes in Amo Magazine. The arrival of Vao received the newcomers as a welcome addition to their fighting force and Tethlog set about to insure his position among his new neighbors. He invited the entire population to a feast, and at once sent his men to neighboring islands to buy up pigs and chickens for the occasion. The devil-dolls—great, hollowed logs, carved roughly to represent a human face, which are erected everywhere in the New Hebrides to guard against evil spirits—were consulted to find a propitious time for the feasting and on the appointed day the celebration began with much shouting and singing and dancing and beating of tambores. It lasted for several days. Before it was over, 120 pigs had been slaughtered. The island had never before known such a feast. As a result of his political strategy, Tethlog, the refugee, became the big chief of Vao, taking precedence over the chiefs already there.

FLYING ABOVE THE CLOUDS

Possible to Experience Every Degree of Fog and Sunshine Within a Few Minutes.

---

The full majesty of the aerial perspective can only be realized when one is above the clouds and the earth is shut off from view. In flying on an overcast day, when heavy banks of cumulous clouds lie at 3000 feet, it is possible to experience within a minute or two every degree of fog and sunshine. When one is passing into the clouds the lower surfaces of which are almost perfectly flat there is an instantaneous transition from shadow to complete atmospheric opacity, similar in appearance to a dense fog at the ground but differing somewhat from it in feeling. For the interior of a cloud seems to be drier the air less saturated with water vapor, than the fog which are met with at sea or ashore. If the climb is continued a few hundred feet farther, the airplane passes again into clear air, but into air now of a clarity and brightness worthy of Mediterranean skies and not at all to be compared with the air at sea level.—Ohio State Journal.

MT. TREMPER WON ATHLETIC MEET

And Girl From There Wins First Prize in Rural School Track Events—Credit Due Public Spirit of People Who Arranged What Proved To Be Close and Interesting Contests.

The rural school track meet held Friday, June 3, at Mt. Pleasant was a success in every way. Two hundred pupils from the schools at Pine Hill, Shandaken, Allaben, Phenicia, Chichester and Mt. Tremper assembled at Risley's grove at Mt. Pleasant where the meet was held. The meet was open to all school children of the district and entries in the various events were numerous.

The events started at 10 a. m. Principals De Silva of Pine Hill and Bennett of Chichester and the Rev. McLaren of Phenicia acted as judges. Prof. De Silva of Mt. Tremper as starter and Will More and Miss Nellie Clancy as score-keepers.

During the forenoon Chichester and Shandaken led the other schools in points won but Phenicia soon came into the lead with Pine Hill and Mt. Tremper as close seconds.

The rivalry continued through the afternoon when at the final event, the girl's bean bag distance throw, Mt. Tremper won out by one point over Phenicia and Pine Hill, being tied for second place with 46 points each.

A sterling silver trophy cup was presented the winning school to become the permanent property of the school winning it for three successive years.

Individual first and second prizes were given the boy and girl earning the greatest number of points during the day. Girls' first prize went to Miss Bertha Randall of Mt. Tremper, second prize to Miss Helen Smith of Pine Hill. The boys' first prize was won by Lloyd Kinsey of Phenicia and second prize went to Gerald George of Pine Hill.

Ice cream was served to all visiting and contesting schools.

Much credit for the success of the meet is due those who so ably assisted and especially Prof. De Silva of Mt. Tremper who developed the plan, also Superintendent Andrews for his efficient field service and to Wilson Risley for the use of the grove. These grounds are probably the best in Ulster county for such purposes.
